Front cover of notebook. These are clear view binders and the kids create a front cover to slide into the sleeve on the front.

We used colored printer paper as our dividers and just labeled each with the different phases. All paperwork for the project goes into the binder.